Notes Start by doing what I ask. Seriously, stop sending me these emails. Just stop. Those of us trying to figure out the universe already have enough challenges without dealing with the likes of you. The reason nobody publishes your papers in a respectable journal is because your papers are worthless crap. Have you considered publishing in a disreputable journal? I'd suggest the International Journal of Macro and Nano Physics. They'll publish anything, sans peer review, if you pay them.
-ea
P.S. Have you considered applying for a position as Donald Trump's science advisor? I'm sure he has an opening.

Dear Chris,
It is perfectly reasonable for you to assume I am some kind of nut-job. After all, I am saying that a peer-reviewed physics article is absurd atheistic propoganda and that everyone in the US is conspiring to cover up this mistake. I am perfectly willing to meet with any psychiatrist or social worker that you name to discuss my behavior. I am also willing to pay for it.

I just can't pick my own psychiatrist and ask him to write a report on my mental health. Can I? Who would read it or trust it?
Very truly yours, David Roemer

I'm glad you're enjoying my book. Thanks for the link on Coyne.

Please let me know if and when you publish a review of my book.

Dear David,

Thanks for sending me your information. You might be interested in reading my own work that exposes the problems with secularist philosophies and worldviews: _The Death of Humanity: And the Case for Life_. I'm attaching a flyer about it, in case you are interested.
