Thanks for your message. I'm afraid, though, that I am not the right person to talk to about these things – if you are sure you want the philosophy department I suggest you contact Michael Roubach, the department chair.

Dear David,
I appreciate the confidence you place in me, but am a loss to know how a philologist and historian of biblical-type traditions, which is what I am, could have any meaningful input into this study of scholastic thought and argumentation.

Of course, my memory may be leading me astray, but I am not sure whether we have ever met. I am, as an examination of my biblio will show (apocryphalstone.com) far indeed from these matters. Were I competent, I could respond ad rem, but I am not competent in this field of learning.
