Notes I apologize for this person contacting you. He originally contacted me because I edit a journal on religion. I recommended that he contact a physicist near his home--but only to get him off our back. I did not expect him to contact someone at SIU.
Please feel free to ignore him and/or block him.
Best, Tobin

Thank you for your interest, but this isn't for us.

Hi David,
I'm not really in a position to do a piece on these at this time, but I agree that more focus needs to be made on the conflict between religion and science. Unfortunately, the Templeton foundation has been paying really good money to make sure that nobody articulates the issues in the conflict, and how they have infected scientific research and pedagogy.

Sincerely,
